THE PLAINTIFF WINS

F. W. BOURCK OF GRANT, IA., MAY KEEP HIS AUTO.

CASE OF GREAT INTEREST

Attracted a Great Deal of Attention and a Large Number of Witnesses Testified.

The attention of the circuit court has been occupied today and yesterday afternoon by the replevin suit of F. W. Bourek vs. R. O. Hallsa. Mr. Bourek is a resident of Grant, Iowa, and Mr. Hallsa is a rural mail carrier out of Elmo, this county. The suit is for the possession of a Ford automobile purchased by Hallsa from Elmer Hamilton, also of Elmo, last July.

According to the allegations of the plaintiff, he purchased a Ford machine from a dealer in Omaha about the fifteenth of last July and before he got out of town with it, the car was stolen. In August he located the car purchased by Mr. Hallsa and laid claim to it. A replevin suit was brought and Mr. Hallsa gave bond for the value of the car and retained possession of it until the merits of the case could be determined in court.

The car in controversy, according to witnesses, bears many marks of resemblance to the car lost by Mr. Bourck but when purchased by Mr. Hallsa it carried a larger steering wheel and the factory serial number had been filed or ground off the engine and a new number had been stamped in. The new number was the same as the original with the exception of the last two figures.

Mr. Hamilton, who sold the car to Mr. Hallsa and presumably warranted the title, claims that he purchased it from a stranger here in Maryville about ten days before the Bourck car is said to have been stolen.

The verdict returned by the jury at 3:40 o'clock in the case of F. W. Bourck vs. R. O. Hallsa of Elmo was in favor of the plaintiff. Mr. Bourck will keep the car.

IT'S A REAL CHANCE

OPPORTUNITY FOR ULTIMATE CONSUMER TRADE WEEK.

THE MERCHANTS SEE IT

They Are Preparing to Increase the Volume of Out-of-Town Trade by Splendid Service.

Sometimes real opportunities come the way of the ultimate consumer, and one of these times for the people of this section of the country will be during Trade Week which will be held in Maryville from December 2 to 9.

The merchants of Maryville realize that this is their opportunity to get a lot of trade which they have never had before. They know that the fare-refund is going to attract a large percentage of out-of-town custom, and they are preparing for the increased volume of trade.

They want you to come to Maryville on the first day of Trade Week, and then to go back and tell your friends about the goods you bought and the money you saved by coming to Maryville. They want you to praise the fine line of holiday goods and display in every store in the city, and they want you to tell your friends about the fare-refund which you received with so little trouble.

Remember that the fares will be refunded to all people who come from a distance, whether by auto, team or by rail. This will include farmers as well as those living in nearby towns. The price of a railroad ticket to and from any of these places will be refunded to all persons, whether farmers or townspeople, who drive to Maryville to trade during the big week, just as though they came on the railroad.

For instance, a person residing in Arkoe or a farmer who lives nearer that place than any other town from which fares are to be refunded, who drives to Maryville to trade during the sale will get the price of a railroad ticket, providing his purchases amount to the required sum. If a farmer or townsman comes into Maryville and buys $5 worth of merchandise, declaring Arkoe as his postoffice address, he may collect railroad fare both ways, no matter whether he comes by rail or not.

The merchants are signing up with eagerness because their business intuition tells them that this is the opportunity of the year. Think of it! Chances to do your holiday shopping, to visit your friends and relatives in Maryville and to have your fare refunded. Isn't that enough to draw the biggest crowd that Maryville has ever seen?

On Teachers' Program.

Prof. Ira F. Richardson, president of the Northwest Normal, and Prof. Bert Cooper, county superintendent of schools are among the speakers on the program at the meeting of the Andrew County Teachers' association at Savannah, December 7, 8 and 9.

ZOELLNER QUARTET

WELL CHOSEN PROGRAM DELIGHTS LYCEUM AUDIENCE.

SHOWED RARE ARTISTRY

Players Exhibit a Common Understanding, Which Results in Remarkable Interpretations.

That "Good long waited for is good" was never more fully demonstrated than it was when the Zoellner string quartet gave its concert in Maryville at the Christian church last night.

The Zoellners were delayed in making their appearance. They did not arrive until the 7:45 o'clock Wabash, and then they had to get ready for the concert. The "taxi" which was to bring them to the church suddenly disappeared and one had to be called. Then they were taken around to every church before the church where the concert was to be held was found. All of these things combined to make the concert a little late, but when the artists did arrive the large crowd of music lovers were well repaid for their wait.

The Zoellners are noted for their programs. They have the "knack" of displaying every phase of their artistry in one series of selections. They began their program with a "Hunting Quartet" by Mozart, which was a marvel of tone shading and artistic production. Every movement, the allegro vivace, the menuetto, the adagio and the allegro assai, were rendered with a beauty and a vitality that clearly showed the real ability of the players.

A lullaby and two Indian dances composed by Prof. Charles Skilton, associate professor of music of the University of Kansas, were selections that represented a type of American music and gave the quartet the opportunity of interpreting the warm, colorful music of the modern composer. Two movements from a quartet by the French composer Jules Moquet were given at the request of Fred Lewis Hakel, who knew the musicians at Brussels. These were especially appreciated by those who are acquainted with the works of the French school of composers.

The concert was all too short in the opinion of many in the audience. One encore, a selection which the Zoellners played recently for the Columbia Phonograph company, was given.

The most noticeable thing about the Zoellners is the way in which they show a common understanding in the interpretation of the selections played. This gives exceeding beauty of ensemble, a fine sense of rhythm and variations in tone that could not be produced if the players had not the same feeling in regard to their music.

Everyone in the well filled church enjoyed the program and was glad of the opportunity to hear such artists as are the Zoellners.

Miss Helpley Coming Home.

Miss Orlena Helpley, who has been employed as a trimmer for a millinery store in Lebanon, Kan., for several weeks, is on her way home. Miss Helpley will visit friends at Delphos, Kan., and at Kansas City.

Miss Irene Aley and Miss Inez Bullerdick will be the week-end guests of Miss Gertrude Cole of Burlington Junction.

AT CLYDE SCHOOLS

GREEN VALLEY AND ST. MARY'S SCHOOLS HAVE EXHIBIT.

CASH PRIZES AWARDED

Prof. Bert Cooper and J. Kelley Wright Give Interesting Speeches at Each Place.

Thursday was a memorable day for the Green Valley School near Clyde and the surrounding community. The teachers, pupils and patrons had planned an extensive agricultural and domestic science exhibit.

Most all the farm products were represented and a special corn contest was held. Mr. Wamsley of the Maryville State Normal acted as judge of all the farm product exhibits. He gave a short address on corn selection and judging.

At noon a sumptuous dinner was served which was greatly enjoyed by all present. The judges of the domestic science and fancy work exhibits were Miss Caroline Weis of Clyde and Miss Helen Schiefelbusch of Blythedale, Mo. The pupils of the school had a number of cakes which proved the superior ability of such young contestants.

Prof. Bert Cooper took charge of the afternoon program. He gave an excellent address in which he praised the great improvement which had been made in and around the school and also made a number of suggestions regarding improvements that could yet be made towards beautifying the school house and premises.

Mr. J. Kelly Wright of the State Department of Agriculture gave a lengthy address on "The Fundamental Principles of Farming." Mr. Wright said in part: "Before progress and success in life could be expected, the community idea and development must be considered and recognized.

"The community is what you make it; it is a unit of a great community. The community extends as far as its influence extends. The members of a community should stand together for the common good instead of for individual gain, and should strive to make a community better because they have lived in it.

"A good means of doing this would be to write down each day something we have done for the good of the community —

"Count that day lost
Whose low, descending sun
Views from thy hand
No worthy action done."

"One drawback to the progress of country life is due to isolation — each member striving to stand alone. Today we must decide whether we shall have poorly eequipped and classified rural schools, or have one good centralized community school. Forty out of every one hundred till someone else's land. It has been said that Missouri could continue to exist if the state were surrounded by an impassable wall, but this is not practically true.

"The world needs boys and girls who shall do things better.

"The one who is sought by the world is the one who does the ordinary things in an extraordinary way. Conditions must be thus because in all ages past and for all times to come people have and always shall depend upon the soil for their maintenance."

Mr. Wright showed the great deficiency of the farmer's knowledge of their occupation by asking a number of pointed questions concerning farmers. He spoke of the neglect of farm orchards and the insufficient knowledge of seed corn selection, corn cultivation and the different kinds of soil.

Following this was a short discussion on the feeding of livestock, the growing of legumes and the great classification of plants and their uses.

Mr. Wright closed by urging the farmers to cultivate the soil in such a manner as to put back part of the nutrition taken from the soil.

The distinguished guests of the day were Reverend Father Frowin of Clyde, J. Kelley Wright, Supt. Cooper, Mr. Wamsley, Miss Caroline Weis, and Miss Helen Schiefelbusch.

Of the 118 exhibits the following list of prizes were given:

At St. Mary's.

Last Thursday the 23rd, long before the hour appointed the pupils, friends and patrons of St. Mary's School were assembled at the building where they found an elaborate display of pupils' work, including crayon and pencil drawings, painting in water color, plain and ornamental needlework, as well as a fine collection of corn, and choice cakes o various kinds. Cash prizes were given for the longest ear of corn and the finest cakes. The corn prize was captured by Frank Strueby, while the first, second, and third cake prizes were awarded respectively to Josephine Wolfer, Leona Zirfas, and Lottie Mattson. Then the cakes were auctioneered, the sum realized being added to the library fund.

Prof. Bert Cooper, county superintendent introduced the principal speaker by an appropriate address which took well with everybody. He expressed his entire satisfaction with the generally progressive attitude of the entire community and the kindness and courtesy with which he and Mr. Wright were treated.

The greatest attraction of the day, however, was J. Kelley Wright's farm lecture. It was eminently practical, interesting and instructive, and was greatly enjoyed by every individual of that crowded mixed audience. All present showed an intelligent and appreciative interest in every topic and the questions and discussions introduced by different members of the audience created a feeling of mutual good-fellowship. Long after the speakers had gone the crowds still lingered, expressing their approval and satisfaction in various ways.

Come again, Mr. Wright!

London, Nov. 25.—Dispatches received here today reported that the Greek revolutionary government, headed by Venizelos, has declared war against Bulgaria. Although the British military experts are of the opinion that Rumania is not doomed to the same fate as Belgium and Servia, gloomy predictions were made today as to its end. That the blows of Falkenhayn and Mackensen will compel Ferdinand to sue for peace before his country is completely overrun is the opinion in dispatches from Bucharest. Russia has recalled her minister to Rumania, and this is taken to mean that apparently Russia is dissatisfied with the showing made by the Rumanian army.

"No Joke to Be An Artist" Says Miss Antoinette Zoellner

It's no joke, being an artist. After four days of almost continual traveling, with but two hours sleep out of twenty-four, it's no child's play to take part in a program of such par excellence as that of the Zoellners at the Christian church last night. But one would little have guessed, unless told, that this nerve destroying schedule had been set out by "our manager" for the stringed quartet.

"Really," said the daughter after "Father" Zoellner had introduced the two sons, "I feel as though I were on a ship, or something like that. Everything seems to vibrate like the train upon which we rode since 4 o'clock this morning. All through the program everything seemed to keep jumping around."

Despite this uncomfortable feeling, the quartet were most cordial in their reception of the few admirers who took occasion to talk with them after the concert. The men were in every sense of the word true gentlemen, smiling and interested. And Miss Zoellner was indeed a smiling, vivacious, humanly interesting and attractive little body.

"My, but she looks sour," someone in the audience remarked during the progress of the program.

That person would have been quite surprised to have talked with the little lady who had slept but two hours on a train the night previous.

"There were no Pullmans," she said. "And there was such confusion on the train that we could not rest. You see, we make such awful jumps. Last night we were in Carbondale, Ill., the night before that in Monroe, Mich.

"We had the funniest experience at Monroe," she confided. "We played at a convent. I knew that I should be careful in selecting the gown I should wear. So I chose a little dress with the throat cut comparatively high. Not like this," pointing with nervous pink finger tips to the stylish evening gown in which she was attired.

"They held us an hour while they looked for a collar for me to wear. They refused to let us go ahead until they found one. Then they objected to my bare arms; I had little quarter length sleeves. Father asked them if they never washed dishes. That seemed to stump them.

"Well, by that time it was so late we could not play any encores. And we had just ten minutes to catch our train. If it had not been late we'd have missed it.

"I do not feel at home in this sort of a gown, either," she declared, "but the dear public demands the very latest. Not long ago our manager sent an advance folder to some town, and it was returned with the statement, 'We do not want this number. The woman's dress is out of date.' The picture had been taken about a year previous."

The Zoellners went to St. Joseph this morning to play before the Fortnightly club there this evening.

Zoellners and Violin Professor Attended the Brussels Royal Conservatory Together.

Prof. Fred Lewis Hakel is proudly displaying a large photograph of the Zoellners, bearing the autographs of the four artists and the inscription "To Fred Lewis Hakel, in memory of the happy days spent in Brussels," and with all best wishes from the Zoellner quartet.

And this tells the story. Prof. Hakel and the Zoellners attended the Brussels Royal Conservatory of Music in Belgium at the same time and had many jolly times together.

"Many an evening," said Prof. Hakel today, "we would go to the home of our music master, Cesar Thomson, and spend the hours playing. All the Zoellners were studying in Brussels at the time. Joseph Zoellner, Sr., the father, was teaching in a branch conservatory of Brussels. Joseph Zoellner, Jr., was graduated in piano with distinction from the Brussels Conservatory, and took up the violin later. Before leaving Belgium the Zoellners played at the palace before the king and queen and the Countess of Flanders.

Prof. Hakel also belonged to a quartet in Brussels. It was the intention of this quartet to tour the United States, but the plans for the trip were frustrated by the war, two of the members being called to the front.

POLITICAL UNREST ACUTE

Retirement of Steurmer for Tripoff in Russia Shows That a Complete Reorganization is Possible.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Copenhagen, Nov. 25.—The political unrest in Russia has reached an acute stage. The government has become alarmed at the discontent shown. This is shown by the fact that it gave way to the popular clamor and retired premier Stuermer for Trepoff. This acknowledges that reform progress and a complete reorganization of the Russian ministry is now possible.

Guests at Jones Home.

Mrs. Lucy Simpson of Newark, N. J., and Mrs. Matilda Diss of Oklahoma City, Okla., are visiting at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Jones. This is Mrs. Simpson's first visit to Maryville in several years. Last year Mr. and Mrs. Jones visited Mrs. Diss at Oklahoma City.

Fred Knox returned yesterday from Finley, N. D., where he has been making his home with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Walker for the last seven months.

SECOND BEST AGAIN

MARYVILLE TAKES LITTLE END OF SCORE 17-7.

WAS HARD FOUGHT GAME

Stanberry Expected Walkaway, But Felt Lucky to Have Scored at All.

Once more the Maryville high school football team ran into "old man Hard Luck" and came off second best. Although they outplayed the Stanberry team the breaks of the game were against them, and the game ended with the score 12-7 in favor of Stanberry.

The game was at all times close and exciting. A Stanberry player said after the game that it was the "hardest fought clean game" they have played this season. The Stanberry bunch came over confident of a walkaway; they went away feeling lucky to have scored at all.

Stanberry's first touchdown was made on a fluke, pure and simple. With the ball well into Stanberry's territory, Maryville was headed for a touchdown when Daniels fumbled the ball. A Stanberry man scooped up the ball and, with a clear field ahead, ran fifty yards for a touchdown. They failed, however, to kick goal. Score at the end of the first quarter: Stanberry 6, Maryville 0.

The second Stanberry touchdown was better deserved. A forward pass which netted them twenty yards put them in Maryville's territory. After a series of fumbles, during which the ball changed hands several times, it was again Stanberry's ball on the twenty-yard line. From there they carried the ball over on straight plunges. The punt-out was unsuccessful and no try at goal was allowed. This made the score 12-0 in favor of Stanberry.

Maryville received the kick-off and made first downs. A fifteen-yard pass to Egley put the ball on Stanberry's thirty-yard line. Egley made one of the best plays of the game in catching the pass. A series of line plunges and end runs put the ball on the two-yard line and Woodward went over for a touchdown. Daniels kicked goal. Score: Stanberry 12, Maryville 7.

Maryville clearly outplayed Stanberry during the rest of the half and had the ball within the twenty-yard line when the whistle blew. The ending of the half took away this advantage. Some more hard luck.

There was no further scoring during the game. During the greater part of the time the ball was in Stanberry's territory. At one time only a fumble prevented Maryville from scoring. The day was rather cold and fumbles were frequent.

Both teams put up a fine game. Stanberry has lost only one game this season and that by a score of only 2-0. It is probable that the championship of this district will be awarded to them.

It can easily be seen how much the Maryville team has improved when it is remembered that the first game between the two teams resulted in a score of 34-0 in favor of Stanberry. Since that time the Maryville team has scored in every game and has only once been defeated by more than one touchdown. The team yesterday played its best game of the season.

The player who received most applause from the spectators was Claude ("Chubby") Pierpoint, who was playing his first home game. His backfield position was new to him but he performed like a veteran. His end runs made one of the features and the game.

Capt. "Rusty" Woodward played a stellar game. His tackling was good and he seldom failed to gain when given the ball. Pickens also played a star game. His intercepting of a Stanberry pass was one of the best plays of the game. Daniels at fullback had an "off day."

The whole line put up a good game. Wray and Condon did especially good defensive work. Wray also carried the ball well after receiving the kick-off.

The line-up for yesterday's game was as follows:

Substitutions—Maryville, Masters for Lewis, Lewis for Lyle, Lyle for Lewis. Stanberry, A. Jones for Talmadge, E. Jones for Dunshea.

Officials—Wray, referee; Belting, umpire; McDonald, head linesman.

The last game of the season will be played here next Thursday, Thanksgiving, when the high school team meets the Chillicothe high school eleven. This game should be the best of the season, as comparative scores show the two teams to be evenly matched. The Chillicothe team is coached by Fred Lewis, a Maryville product.

3RD DAY OF VILLA BATTLE

Bandit Intends to Make Long Siege and Hopes Trevino Will Run Out of Ammunition.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

El Paso, Nov. 25.—The third day of Villa's assault on Chihuahua City was opened with a skirmish around the suburbs. A trainload of ammunition was sent from Juarez last night but has been returned as Villa was in complete control of the road. It is thought that he intends a long siege and hopes that Trevino will run out of ammunition. The casualties on both sides are slight.

Richard Phillips of Marshall, Mo., adjuster for the Home Insurance Co of New York, is in Maryville today adjusting the loss on the C. H. Wilson residence, which partially burned November 14.

Home From Wyoming.

Granville F. Gray, who has been in Sheridan, Wyo., for the last seven months, returned to Maryville this morning to spend the winter. Mr. Gray was on a claim while in Wyoming.

Leap Year Social and Dance.

About one hundred persons were entertained last night with a leap year box social and dance at the W. O. W hall by the members of the W. O. W and of the Woodmen Circle. Those on the entertaining committee were George Sillers, Homer Dragoo and Harry Scarborough of the W. O. W., and Gabe Allen, Miss Daisy Allen, Miss Myrtle Lanning, and Mrs. Jim Woodburn from the Woodmen Circle. In the trip to Bridgewater contest the prizes were won by Miss Agnes Bickett and Harry Allen, and in the apple eating contest prizes were won by Harry Allen and Mrs. Walters. Several tables were arranged for the guests to play cards. Following supper was a dance. The music was furnished by Oliver K. Bovard and Miss Hilda Lahr.

Willing Helper Session.

The Pioneer Willing Helpers' club met at the home of Mrs. George Wright Thursday, Nov. 23. The afternoon was spent in doing fancy work, after which a short business session was held. Refreshments were served by the hostess. Members present were: Mrs. George Gay, Mrs. William Rhodes, Mrs. I. V. Moore, Mrs. John Dawson, Mrs. Swearingen, Mrs. Everett Dickey, Mrs. George Wright and Mrs. Everett Gay. Visitors present were: Mrs. Helen Moore, Ruth Swearingen, Dorothy Cunningham, Pearl Marie Wright and Vesta Dickey. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Everett Dickey, Wednesday, Dec. 6.

Rural Improvement Club Meets.

The regular meeting of the Rural Improvement club was held at the home of Mrs. Joe Trullinger, Thursday, Nov. 23. Seventeen of the members were present. A Thanksgiving program was given by Blanche Moore, Mrs. Bert McKee and Mrs. Ben Cox. Mrs. Frank Johnson and Mrs. Elmer Porter were guests of the club for the afternoon. The next meeting will be held with Kittie Taylor, December 7. The subject for roll call will be, "How Should Christmas Gifts Be Given?"

Mrs. John Cooper, Hostess.

The Woman's Neighborhood club met with Mrs. John Cooper, Thursday, Nov. 23, with eight members present. Roll call was answered with favorite books. A short musical program was given. Mrs. Sam Bay won the prize in the contest. A luncheon consisting of sandwiches, pickles, pie and coffee was served by the hostess. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Fred Griffey, Wednesday, Dec. 6, with Mrs. Bay as leader.

Dougherty-Goff Wedding.

Miss Gladys M. Dougherty of Graham, Mo., and Mr. Ova C. Goff of Barnard, Mo., were married at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the home of the officiating clergyman, the Rev. J. I. Orrison, 1015 Felix street, pastor of the Christian church at Barnard, Mo.—St. Joseph News-Press.

Box Supper Brings $66.

The box supper which was held last night at the Diamond Branch school near Ravenwood was a splendid success, due to the efforts of the teacher, Miss Margaret Heffern. Over $66 was made, three double boxes bringing more than $30. A box of candy was given to the most popular young lady, and went to Miss Elizabeth Flynn of Ravenwood. The prize for the laziest man went to John Midyet. Will Sawyers of Ravenwood was auctioneer. Mr. Sawyers said this was the most successful box social he had ever seen. The money will be used toward buying a furnace and enlarging the library. A furnace is all that is needed in the way of school improvements.

For Beulah McLarnon.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave McLarnon, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sweitzer, entertained with a party last night in honor of their daughter, Beulah. Games were played. Light refreshments were served, after which the guests all attended the Empire theater. Those present were: Lucile Elliot, Mabel and Evelyn Raines, Alsamine King, Josephine Miller, Mildred and Lucy Kenzel, Beulah and Margaret McLarnon, Bennett French, Shane King, Lewis and Russell Howard, Glen Trullinger, Ralph Eversole, Harold Roelofson and Lawrence Masters.

Medical Society Meets.

A business meeting of the Medical society was held last night, followed by a two-course luncheon at Reuillard's. The following were present: Dr. Karl Malotte, Dr. Will Wallis, Jr., Dr. K. C. Cummins, Dr. J. H. Todd, Dr. F. M. Ryan, Dr. F. M. Martin, Dr. C. V. Martin, Dr. Charles T. Bell and Dr. L. E. Dean.

Entertains for Zoellners.

Prof. Fred Lewis Hakel entertained the members of the Zoellner quartet and of the faculty of the Maryville Conservatory of Music at the New York Candy Candy Kitchen last night after the concert. There were present besides the quartet Misses Berenice Rice, Alice Porter, Lucile Airy, Eleanor Smith, Geneva Wilfley, Prof. P. O. Landon and Vladimir Jisa.

MAY NOW BE A "PROF"

Herschel Colbert Offered a Position on Journalism Faculty in the University of Washington.

Herschel Colbert, son of Prof. and Mrs. G. H. Colbert, who is at present a general reporter on the Chicago Examiner, has been offered an associate professorship in the school of journalism of the University of Washington at a splendid salary.

Mr. Colbert's work in Chicago has been exceptionally well received. He began at the "foot of the ladder," taking a position with the news bureau of Chicago. Since then he has steadily climbed upward until now he is among the "regulars" on the Chicago Examiner.

The decision to forsake the practical work of journalism and to take up the teaching side of the subject is a weighty one, and Dr. Henry Suzzallo of the University of Washington, who is in Missouri for the purpose of recruiting the journalism staff at Washington, is giving Mr. Colbert two weeks in which to decide. In connection with this, his many friends in Maryville hope that his final plans will result in his greatest advancement and success.

Miss Lora Stultz was the guest of Miss Juno Jones last night. Miss Stultz left this morning for Skidmore to visit her parents.
